

Ralphs Greet Local Women Leaders at Tea and Show

About 100 women who are active in various community groups were guests of Ralphs South Bay Store in the new South Bay Shopping Center, Redondo Beach and Hawthorne Blvds. at 174th St., last week at a tea and fashion show.

"We are delighted to have you with us, and we are eager to serve you and your organizations in every possible way," said Earl Miller, manager of Ralphs South Bay Store.

Don Miguel Originals, Tabak of California, Alex Coleman, and Rose Marie Reid presented 1957 fashions, worn by five models who showed these interesting fashions on a pink runway constructed over the frozen food display.

Coffee, tea and punch, cake and cookies were enjoyed during the hour-long showing. The following door prizes were awarded: a silver tea service by F. B. Rogers went to Mrs. Vern Mead, 20016 Anza Ave., Torrance. Mrs. Mead is a leader in the Emmanuel Lutheran Church.

A Don Miguel original dress was won by Mrs. J. H. Junker, 4716 Laurette St., Torrance, and an Alex Coleman dress went to Mrs. Flora Clifton, 4877 W. 137th St., Hawthorne. Mrs. Clifton is president of the Lawndale Woman's Club.

Mrs. S. J. Dunhouse, 1624 Juniper St., Torrance, was awarded the Rose Marie Reid bathing suit. Mrs. Dunhouse is a member of the board of the Torrance Woman's Club.

Mrs. O. E. Busbey, 1314 W. 149th St., Gardena, member of the El Camino Faculty Wives' Club, was the winner of the Tabak of California dress.

Miss Conklin Is Winner in Art Contest

Patricia Conklin of 8 Blackwater Canyon Road, Rolling Hills, was named top winner today in the 1957 General Federation of Women's Clubs national art competition for high school seniors.

Miss Conklin received first prize for an oil painting entitled "Pulling in the Nets."

The winner, an 18-year-old student at Redondo Union High, portrayed a rugged harbor scene in her winning painting. She said she became interested in the subject of fishermen and their nets during a visit to the Los Angeles harbor. Her entry was sponsored by the Redondo Beach Women's Club.

Each prize winner will receive a scholarship to an art school or university from Hallmark Cards, which has sponsored the educational awards since they were founded in 1954.

Mrs. Leonard Oliver, art chairman of the GFWC, said a total of 2500 entries were received from 44 states, the District of Columbia, and Alaska for this year's contest, making it the largest of the four held to date. The awards will be presented June 7 during the annual national convention of the GFWC at Asheville, N.C., where the prize winning paintings and top painting from each of the states will be exhibited publicly for the first time.

The paintings were judged by Ross Taggart, of the William Rockhill Nelson Gallery of Art, Kansas City; Rosemary Beymer, art director for the Kansas City public schools, and Marjean Phillips, art critic of the Kansas City Star.

Girls Honored With Award

National honors have been accorded 10 Okiciyapi Winuke Campfire Girls.

The group's memory books received the national award at the Harbor District Council Fire at Torrance Park, Saturday.

Mrs. Marguerite Guidinger, committee of awards chairman, who passed the girls on Trail Seeker's Rank in March. Mrs. Guidinger, at that time, suggested the girls submit their memory books for national honor.

The national award is the first earned in the Harbor district.
